

http://CMC419

Newstead.

Tasrocks.

Sussex.

My dear Miss Kitching.

January 9th/50.

I had been looking forward to seeing you on Wednesday, but think you are wise not to risk London fog, and a possible cold journey.

Thank you for the most interesting Christmas card, which I shall always keep, as a remembrance of Miss Marry, you and Wordsworth!

Within ten days or so, I hope to send you information of the early days of the P.W.E.U. in Bradford - after looking through old papers, I enclose one which was close at hand, which you may have already - but without knowing much about those whose names are mentioned.

i4pZCMCH19

Mrs. Boyd Carpenter - was the wife of the Bishop of Ripon.

The Rev. W. Keeling. Headmaster of the Bradford Grammar School.

Mrs Gates wife of Judge Gates the County Court Judge.

Mrs Alfred Illingworth - member of one of the best known Bradford families.

Mrs Arnold Foster. Mother's greatest friend in Yorkshire.

Mrs Keeling The Headmaster's wife.

Mrs Alfred Priestress. A well-known Quaker.

T. G. Cooper H.M. Inspector for Bradford.

Mrs Carter Lewis. Head of a small children's school.

Paul was born on July 18th, 1888 and I remember "Aunt Mai" from that year,
when I was 4 - we went to "Wadsworth Hill" in 1889 -

Yours, with much love,

Dorothea.

15p1CMG419

over

Newstead,

Staerachs.

January 16th,

/59.

My dear Miss Kitching.

Mother's notes were brief,
but I think these I send will help to cover the earliest days, specially the programme for 1888-89.

We found "Aunt Mai" with her slow smile and gentle voice, and every Christmas brought a batch of books with a personal inscription for each of us.
A bright-coloured, illustrated

"Chancery for Children" and another,
"Queen Victoria's Dolls" I remember especially. (Also that this never liked to teach her dolls as a child)

Please tell me if there is anything further I could send. The first publications of the "Parents' Review" you are sure to have.

You ask about recent bird adventures. I saw Snow-Bunting and Shore-larks when staying at Cley, Norfolk in the autumn, and hear that a Sea Eagle has just been there, causing great excitement. The London Naturalist Society came down by bus, (starting at 4 a.m.) and luckily had a good view! + The Ambleside Council meeting was strange without you -

Much love from

Dorothy.

Note on the beginning of the F.N.E.U. and See 2ⁿ Remonstrance p. 23 P.H.S.

~~1888.~~ Mother wrote to Miss Mason after reading an article in the paper, and to find the author and who were both living in Bradford.

They met, and decided to hold a drawing-room meeting for parents who would be interested, who could form a society to carry out Miss Mason's ideas on education.

This meeting was held in our home, Walmer Place, Birmingham, Bradford, when a committee was elected; the name Parents' National Educational Union was chosen and the first programme arranged, which I have already sent to you.

1889. We moved to Wharfedale,
Ilkley in April. Soon afterwards mother began to teach us under

15P4CMC419

Mrs Dawson's guidance, and we were joined by a friend, Vera Dawson. The first published programme for the P. U. S. was,
I believe, in 1891.
